FOURTH SUNDAY OF EASTER
APRIL 13, 2008
“HE WALKS IN FRONT OF THEM” -JOHN 10:4

BAPTISM: Part One

One of the significant results of the Second Vatican Council was the Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy, which, besides calling for drastic changes in our celebration of the Eucharist, also called for the celebration of all the sacraments to be community events wherever possible. And so, though we may groan inwardly when we arrive for Sunday Mass and realize there is to be the baptism of a child or one of the rites/ceremonies of the RCIA (Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults), it is SO important that we as the faith community join in these celebrations. Hopefully these celebrations will remind us of our own faith commitment through our baptism.

Probably for most of us we have no recollection of our baptism. As was customary at the time I was probably whisked off to church on a Sunday afternoon when I was two or three weeks old by my godparents (my parents were home preparing the party!).

Today we are much more aware that Baptism is a life commitment. When we're infants our parents make that commitment for us by promising to raise us in the faith and when we're adults we make that commitment on our own. Part of the Easter Vigil service (where adults are baptized by immersion and received into the Church) is the invitation to those of us already baptized to renew that baptismal commitment. This is also a special part of each Easter Sunday liturgy.

But what does that commitment mean? What responsibilities go with it? In a future column I'll develop this thought further. In the meantime I leave you with my favorite passage from the book Seasons of Your Heart by Macrina Wiederkehr, O.S.B. in which she reflects on her own baptism:

“Someone gave it (baptism) to me: my parents, their parents, the Church, my community, my God. And I'm standing here with my baptism in my hands wondering what to do with it. I struggle with faithfulness. Sometimes I want to throw it away. After all, it's just an invitation! It's too demanding! Too loving! I don't know what to do with such love. I walked around for a long time before I said Amen to my baptism. Finally I confirmed that invitation. I said yes to everything that God and the Church and all those faith-filled people were asking of me. Amen, my Lord, Amen!”

Percussion Workshop

Attention percussionists, drummers and musicians: You're invited to a wonderful, one night hands-on course on Percussion for Liturgical Singers and Musicians, given by Dr. John Pennington (Fr.

Matt's brother). Think of it perhaps as "An Idiots guide to Making Liturgical Soundscapes".

Dr. John has worked closely with Fr. Cyprian and other big name Liturgical musicians. It's a treat to snag him for a night to see him work and teach us. John will be here at St. Joseph's on April 21 (Monday) at 7PM to 9PM, and you're invited and encouraged to attend! The evening will provide a hands-on percussion workshop, helping us learn and practice what sorts of sounds are good for what times in liturgies (e.g. during on the laying on of hands; blessing of the water; scrutines, etc) and how to accomplish those sounds with various simple musical tools that we might have on hand or could easily afford to have on hand. If you're interested just come or, call Tom O'Brien at the church, 475-8211, x11.

Bishops Annual Ministries's Appeal

"Listening is essential to our experience of life.", with that sentence Father Matt started off his appeal letter that we all received last week. April is the month of the Annual Ministries Appeal (AMA). This is your chance to support the ministries that are the lifeblood of the Diocese and to contribute to our sound system upgrades. Our sound system is critical to our ability to celebrate the liturgy and as it is, it is woefully out of date. Please consider the wonderful renovations we have created due to past AMAs and be generous once again.

Golf with the Bishop

The 14th Annual Bishop's Golf Tournament is Friday, May 9 at Rancho Canada Golf Club. We welcome foursomes, live and silent auction items and dinner guests. All proceeds support Catholic school scholarships and Catholic charities of the Diocese. Register online at dioceseofmonterey.org. For donations, more information or registration details, call 373-1834.

Magnificat, a ministry to Catholic women, cordially invites you to come and hear Aggie tell her inspiring story at the May 3rd breakfast in Seaside. There will also be a May crowning in honor of Our Lady. Reservations are $25 and must be received by April 26. Call 831-596-83931 or 831-728-5914 for reservations or information.
